THURSDAY TIDINGS.

A new roof is being put on the water-works pumping station.

Telephone No. 155 has been placed in the residence of A. P. Childs.

Born, this afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Higginbotham, at the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Perry, of South Norfolk, a son.

A new daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Hennessey last night.

Mrs. Robert Utter very pleasantly entertained her Sunday school class last evening.

The fair store has been closed today out of respect to Mrs. Shurtz, wife of one of the proprietors.

Fritz Belofski of Battle Creek is a new patient at the hospital for insane, he having been brought to that institution yesterday by Sheriff Losey.

Do not forget the sociable to be given this evening at the residence of E. E. Adams on South Fifth street, by the young people of the Baptist church. A good time is promised all who will attend.

The report has been circulated that Mrs. Jack Koenigstein was much worse today. Her friends will be pleased to learn that there is no foundation for the story, and as a matter of fact she is better than at any time since her sickness began.

At the last council meeting the committee on fire and police was authorized to establish a police station with telephone facilities and a system of registering for police officers. In accordance with these instructions the committee has rented the Foster building, next door to Truman's place of business, formerly occupied by L. Council and B. W. Jonas. Besides a telephone, a stove, desk and chairs will be put in. The object is to have a station centrally located where the officers may find shelter and warmth in disagreeable weather, and where they may be called to various parts of the city if their services are needed.

A large number of friends went down to the train this noon to meet the remains of the late Mrs. W. D. Gallup and the relatives and friends composing the funeral party, among whom were Conductors Aid and Miller who went as far as Fremont to meet them. They were escorted to the First Congregational church, where Rev. J. J. Jeffries conducted impressive but short funeral services, after which the procession wended its way to Prospect Hill cemetery, where she who was so lately known and respected in Norfolk was consigned to her kindred dust. The ladies of the Eastern Star, of which the deceased was formerly a member, assisted in many ways to alleviate the sorrows of the bereaved family and indicate their sympathy. Many beautiful floral offerings were made by friends of the deceased to indicate in some slight manner the esteem in which she was held.

Early this morning the plow was struck into the ground on the north side of THE NEWS office and the first movement toward the erection of Norfolk's new $10,000 opera house was performed. The work has been going all day and it now appears that before the week is out the work of laying the brick will be under way. The erection of no building that has been put up for years will be watched with more interest by every citizen of Norfolk. The work of beginning has been put off several days because of a controversy over an alley-way. This has now been satisfactorily adjusted. Part of the material is also being placed on the ground today and it is hoped that nothing will occur to interrupt the progress of the building which will be hurried to completion as rapidly as possible. Mr. Warrant is an energetic individual and now that he has made a start it need not be expected that he will allow the grass to grow under his feet. W. A. King is the gentleman who is attending to the excavating and he also has the contract for getting the material on the grounds and everything in readiness for the masons. There have been some who were inclined to doubt that the opera house would be erected. No one can particularly blame them, as there have been so many disappointments in this particular. THE NEWS has had faith in the project from the start and the move that has been made today will no doubt serve to convert any doubting Thomases who may remain.
